Your visit and browsing of the page is equivalent to accepting the following "terms of use."
Terms of use thesketcher.art for site visitors.

Publication Date: 30/12/2022

We would like to inform you that through our website we offer information and services to visitors on the condition that they expressly and unreservedly agree to the following terms and conditions:

The website aims to adults; therefore, by browsing, you declare that you are an adult and that you will use the website in accordance with its purpose. If, however, minors voluntarily visit the website or use any service that may be deemed inappropriate for them, our company bears no responsibility.

With your visit, we provide you with a limited, non-exclusive right of access and use of the website, only for your personal use in accordance with the purpose of the website. Any other use is expressly prohibited.

We inform you that the website is used "as is," without the possibility of modifications or other interventions from the user. Our company tries in every way to provide accurate, complete, reliable, valid, and up-to-date information. However, due to the nature of the medium, we do not commit, nor do we guarantee, nor do we take any responsibility regarding the content of the website. As a user, you accept that you must evaluate the content and that you are responsible for any use of any part of it.

Apart from the specific rights of third parties, all the content of the website (signals, texts, photos, etc.) is the intellectual and commercial property of our company. Therefore, this content may not be copied, modified, reproduced, retransmitted, or commercially used in any way by any user. Each user has the right to individually store a single copy of a piece of content for strictly personal use.

As a user, you state that you will not take any action in order to mislead anyone regarding the origin of the content of the website and that you will not in any way harm the reputation of our company or our partners.

As a user, you state that you will not attempt in any way to install, promote, or distribute through the website any digital virus or other electronic code, files, or programs designed to interfere with, destroy or restrict the operation of the website or terminals of its users.

In any case of illegal or unconstitutional use of the website, our company reserves the right to claim damages for any positive or damaging loss.

We will make every effort to make the website available. However, we reserve the right to interrupt its operation from time to time for technical or other reasons or even to terminate its operation at our sole discretion.

We will make every effort to ensure that the website is secure. But because there is no infallible system, we inform you that we cannot guarantee that there are no security gaps in the future. Therefore, we are not responsible for any data loss or damage that may occur to the user in the event of an issue.

We reserve the right to modify the terms of use. You are responsible for notifying us of any changes that may occur before using the website. The terms and conditions of use will always be available in the corresponding field of the website "terms of use."

Your visit and browsing are equivalent to a declaration of acceptance of the "terms of use."
